113 COTTON-GOODS MARKET. MANCHESTER, ENG. October 4.—The Guardian's commercial article to-day says: The market is quiet, but steady. The engagements of producers sustain prices. There is a good inquiry for light shirting for China. Full prices paid for delivery prevented further sales. There is a moderate inquiry for shirting for Bombay and Kurrachee, some of it being practicable. Print cloths are in slightly better request. Heavy goods are quiet. Makers are unable to dispose of their production. The coal-miners' strike extraording the coal-miners' strike extraording are dull, but prices are steady.
